ABOUT ME

Currently, I am a postdoctoral researcher at the Sant'Anna School of Advanced Studies, where I did my PhD in Law. Prior to starting my PhD, I gained professional experience first as a country-of-origin information specialist at the Hungarian Immigration and Asylum Office (now: National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing), then as a trainee lawyer at a prestigious law firm in Budapest with a large Italian- and English-speaking clientele. I have published extensively and participated in Italian and international conferences on different topics, such as asylum, immigration and populism, the protection of fundamental rights in emergency contexts and social rights in the EU. In addition, I spent a five-month-long research period at the European Training and Research Centre for Human Rights and Democracy (University of Graz) from October 2023 to February 2024. My PhD thesis "Health, Fundamental Rights and the Moving Boundaries of Asylum: An Emerging Dialogue in Europe (?)" aims to identify health issues, framed in terms of fundamental rights, that may be relevant for granting asylum, and in this respect, the role of dialogue among courts and non-judicial monitoring bodies in Europe, based on doctrinal legal research with interdisciplinary insights from medical sciences, psychology and philosophy (submitted on 30/09/2024, discussion date: to be defined). I am a marathon runner.

WORK EXPERIENCE

01/02/2025 – CURRENT Pisa, Italy

POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCHER SANT'ANNA SCHOOL OF ADVANCED STUDIES

Currently, I am a postdoctoral researcher at Sant'Anna School of Advanced Studies. Specifically, I am conducting comparative legal research on migration and asylum and the role of judicial actors in the protection of fundamental rights of people on the move in Italian and EU law.

01/10/2021 – 30/09/2024 Pisa, Italy

PHD IN LAW SANT'ANNA SCHOOL OF ADVANCED STUDIES

During my PhD, I conducted comparative legal research on migration and asylum, fundamental rights in emergency contexts, discrimination and equal treatment in the EU. In addition, I participated in several Italian and international conferences, seminars and workshops, I carried out teaching and science-to-public activities, and I have got familiar with writing project proposals for EU and national calls. As part of my role as "Cultore della materia in Diritto delle migrazioni (IUS/09)" (from 01/06/2023 to 31/05/2026), for the three-year degree course "Scienze per la pace: trasformazione dei conflitti e cooperazione allo sviluppo" at the University of Pisa, I contributed to the supervision of students' theses.

10/10/2023 – 29/02/2024 Graz, Austria

VISITING RESEARCHER EUROPEAN TRAINING AND RESEARCH CENTRE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRACY, UNIVERSITY OF GRAZ

During my research stay, I primarily worked on my PhD thesis. Specifically, I conducted doctrinal research on the interplay between the right to asylum and human rights (especially, the right to health), as well as on the links between health conditions of third country nationals and the principle of non-refoulement and international protection forms in the case-law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and the European Court of Human Rights. In addition, I contributed to the 2024 European Yearbook on Human Rights (ed. by P. Czech, L. Heschl, K. Lukas, M. Nowak, G. Oberleitner, Brill) with the chapter entitled "Health Cases before European Courts: From Non-refoulement to Subsidiary Protection Through Health Lens."

15/07/2019 – 31/12/2020 Budapest, Hungary

TRAINEE LAWYER LAJOS LAW FIRM

As a trainee lawyer, I have gained experience in company law, family law and labour law in a changing legal environment (partly in the Covid-19 context), including the representation of international clients before national courts, the Constitutional Court and the European Court of Human Rights.

01/02/2018 – 31/12/2018 Budapest, Hungary
COI-SPECIALIST HUNGARIAN IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM OFFICE

As a COI specialist, I carried out research on the countries of origin of international protection applicants, engaging with a wide range of topics, including health issues relevant for their claims. In this position, I had the opportunity to collaborate with the European Asylum Support Office (now: EU Agency for Asylum) in its initiative to build a network for medical country of origin information (MedCOI).
