

CV BARBARA POLITI

Graduated with honors in industrial chemistry, then manager in a large pharmaceutical company where for 15 years dealt with strategic management of intellectual property. Italian patent attorney and internationally certified patent documentalist, now works as a consultant in any industrial sector where support for the management of innovations is required. The company Addì Srl, of which she is the owner, provides assistance on the broader topic of innovation management, therefore also including the management of international company agreements and business development.