

MATTIA ROMANI - CV

Mattia Romani is a Senior Fellow at the London School of Economics Grantham Research Institute on the Economics of Climate Change. His research focuses on sustainable finance, AI and Climate, and transition economics. He is a partner at Systemiq, the advisory and investment company dedicated to accelerating systems change in the low-carbon transition. He leads Systemiq's global practice on sustainable finance, with a focus on global climate finance flows to emerging economies, public and private. He is a member of the High Level Expert Group on Climate Finance, chaired by prof. Nicholas Stern. He was recently Senior Counsel to the COP28 President.

Dr Romani previously worked in private investment in sustainability and served as Managing Director for Economics, Policy and Governance at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development between 2014 and 2020. He was formerly Deputy DG of the Global Green Growth Institute in South Korea. He worked with Prof. Nicholas Stern on the Stern Review, and was a senior expert in sustainability and resource productivity at McKinsey. He started his career at Shell, working in the scenario team. He holds a DPhil in Economics from the University of Oxford, an MSc in Development Studies from the LSE and an MSc in Economics from the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna in Pisa, Italy.