Communication skills Excellent communication and interpersonal skills developed both in the University environment during group projects and private lessons, and in professional work during official meetings in European institutions and with representatives of the UN agencies in Rome and of the Ministry of Agriculture, Food, Forestry and Tourism. Constructive attitude and excellent sense of adaptation developed during my studying and working in multicultural environments where it was essential to interact with others to achieve a shared goal.

Organisational / managerial skills Team-working and leadership: strong ability in managing group work and in the perception of individual needs; authoritativeness in personnel management and with managerial staff. I was able to develop these skills thanks to the research and work experience at the University of Macerata, the Schuman Center in Florence, the European Parliament and the School of Law of the LUISS University in Rome.

Job-related skills Deep knowledge of European and international law, of the relationship between EU law and national law; ability to critically analyze legislative texts and jurisprudence, also from a legal policy perspective. Ability to work perfectly both in English and French.

Digital skills Proficient with Microsoft Office programmes.
