ECE DOĞA AYAN

As an International Relations student, I have gained experience in global policy analysis and international diplomacy through my involvement with various organizations, providing me with practical insights into the field.

EDUCATION

International Relations Bachelor at Kadir Has University September 2022 - Present

- As an International Relations student, I focused on studying international diplomacy, global coordination, and policy efficiency. I collaborated with various international organizations to implement effective policy frameworks, gaining practical experience in the field and contributing to the success of diverse international initiatives.

Minor in International Law 2023 - Present

- With a minor in International Law, I bring a deep understanding of legal frameworks to my academic pursuits in International Relations. This background enhances my ability to analyze global issues critically and propose effective solutions within the context of international law and diplomacy.

SKILLS

- Effective Time Management
- Creative Problem-Solving
- Active Listening
- Efficiency Under Pressure
- Critical Thinking
- High Learning Appetite

WORK EXPERIENCE

- Present, since 2023

Student Assistant

- My responsibilities included conducting news categorization, data analysis, and classification. I meticulously organized and managed research data, ensuring accuracy and integrity. By collaborating with the academic team, I contributed to the professor's research projects, presenting findings and insights that supported ongoing studies. This role honed my analytical skills and provided me with valuable experience in academic research and data management.
- Currently, I am collaborating with my professor on a comparative politics project, focusing on right-wing parties in the European Union and Turkey. We are in the process of preparing an academic paper that examines the dynamics and impact of these parties within their respective political landscapes.

English Translator • 2021-2022

- Worked at Nisantasi Hospital in collaboration with Artemis Aesthetic, where I provided essential information to patients, addressed their requests and needs, and ensured their satisfaction as an English translator. Additionally, I managed financial transactions and oversaw important bank accounts, ensuring accuracy and efficiency.
