Open Call for Expression of Interest for a position of:

Recognized Researcher – RR - (R2- PhD holders or equivalent who are not yet fully independent)

in the following research areas

- Functional plant diversity in agroecological systems with cover crop/mulches and intercrops.
- Integrated and ecological weed management in diversified arable and horticultural systems.
- Relationship between functional biodiversity and provision of ecosystem services in diversified agroecological systems.

or in an area at the intersection or at the interface of the previous ones.

In an attempt to strengthening its international position, to enhance the areas of expertise already developed in the faculty, or to open new research avenues, the Center of Plant Sciences is opening a new tenured position of Recognized researcher (R2) in the general area of Agroecology.

This position will strengthen the international recognition of the current academic staff of the Scuola in the area of agroecology, by expanding the work on the relationship between agrobiodiversity and ecosystem services across different trophic levels and scales, taking into due account participatory action-research approaches.

The position will be covered by an open competitive evaluation procedure (i.e. concorso) according to the Italian law (Law 240/2010 art. 24)

Before the formal opening of the position, the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna is launching a Call for Expression of Interest (CEI) from potential candidates.

Profile. The Center of Plant Sciences is looking for a scientist with a research background in one or more of the previously indicated research domains and who is expected to carry out cutting-edge research on the interactions between agrobiodiversity and ecosystem service provision in diversified agroecological systems. The ideal Candidate should be able to attract EU and national funding through the active engagement in competitive grants, with a leading role. He or she will co-create innovation and generate knowledge through participatory action-research projects and targeted dissemination activities carried out with agroecological farmers and other relevant actors. The position requires to engage with small-medium enterprises (SMEs) in the co-creation of technological innovation, with special reference to biodiversity-based and digital agroecological solutions. The position comes with an involvement in the development of innovative inter- and transdisciplinary courses offered to MSc (Agricultural Sciences & Plant Biotechnology) and PhD (Agrobiodiversity) students. He or she will co-supervise MSc and PhD students working on agroecological research themes.

We offer the candidate the inclusion in a highly dynamic research group in Agroecology, with a high international scientific reputation and a continuous engagement in international research projects and networking activities based on inter- and transdisciplinary approaches.

The adequacy of the candidates will be assessed by the School leadership and by the relevant recruiting structure mainly on the basis of the self-assessment form reported in the Appendix.

Terms and Conditions. The starting yearly gross salary for Recognized Researcher is € 44.207, and can be increased based on seniority and qualified research results. The severance pay is equal to one monthly gross salary for each year of employment. The employer pays social security charges.

Application procedure. Fill in the Appendix and submit the application by email to scouting@santannapisa.it, by March, 6, 2023. Please indicate in the subject line this code: RR - PLANTS – agroecology.

In case of inquiries, please contact: Prof. Paolo Bàrberi, paolo.barberi@santannapisa.it.

The candidates will be notified about the results of the CEI within 30 days from the deadline. The candidates could be invited for an interview at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna.

Timing. It is expected to fill the position by October 1st, 2023

Equal opportunities: Scuola Sant'Anna is an equal-opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women and underrepresented minorities are especially encouraged to apply.

Disclaimer: this is not yet a job vacancy advertisement. Based on the expressions of interest for these positions, the Sant'Anna School for Advanced Studies will determine whether or not to launch
