

MY EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY

Meet the people engineering a sustainable future for Europe

“Working together to make mobility abroad a real possibility for everyone”

How did you come to join the EELISA project?

As the Scuola Sant’Anna’s contact person for the Erasmus+ programme, I had been aware of the European Universities Alliances since the first call in 2019 and had immediately realised the importance and innovative nature of this action. I have followed the EELISA project since the writing and submission phase of the proposal in 2020 and lived with hope the months of waiting for the outcome of the call, which fortunately was positive. Since then, I have always followed the administrative aspects of the project and in particular I participate as a representative of the Scuola Sant’Anna in WP 7 dedicated to mobility among partners.

Tell us what it brought you.

It gave me the opportunity to discuss mobility management and international relations issues with colleagues from the most important European universities, helping me to see the management of daily office activities from a different perspective and being able to draw on examples of best practice.

3 words to describe EELISA:

Opportunities, involvement, future

Why do you think people should join EELISA?

I believe the uniqueness of the EELISA project lies in being able to involve and create opportunities for growth for every component of the partner universities: students, researchers, faculty and administrative staff. This project aims to include exchange, sharing and mobility as an essential element of the academic curricula, offering future generations of students not only a multidisciplinary and high-level teaching, but an educational experience enriched by physical and virtual mobility.
