Scuola Superiore Sant’Anna
The Scuola Superiore Sant’Anna is a public University and a centre of academic excellence which promotes education and research through undergraduate and postgraduate studies and PhD programmes in the field of Social and Applied Sciences.

The Master is organised in collaboration with the International Research Laboratory on Global Security and Human Rights and the International Training Programme for Conflict Management of the DIRPOLIS Institute of the Scuola Superiore Sant’Anna.

Description
The Master in Human Rights and Conflict Management is designed to provide students from different cultures and backgrounds with a deep understanding of the linkages between human rights and conflict management theory and practice. The curriculum, strongly field-oriented, prepares participants to work with NGOs, governments, aid agencies, the UN system and regional organisations, as well as to operate in the context of complex emergencies and joint operations.

Structure
The Master is a one-year post-graduate programme for which attendance is compulsory. It starts on January 10, 2018 and runs until Spring 2019. The syllabus of the Master Programme, in addition to individual studying and the preparation of a final written project (project work), will cover about 440 hours of classroom lectures and 480 hours of internship. Classroom lectures are from Monday to Friday and run from 10 January to the end of July 2018. The internship lasts three or more months starting from August/September 2018.
