

Humor as part of public morality

Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna
Room 2 – Palazzo Toscanelli, Via S. Cecilia 3, Pisa.
10th December 2018
16:00 – 18:00

Introduction: Alberto Pirni
Sant'Anna School of Advanced Studies – Pisa

Maria Gracheva

Visiting PhD student

Saint Petersburg State University, Russian Federation

The seminar will focus on several important topics that address the phenomenon of humor from a theoretical point of view. In the attempt to provide a detailed picture of the concept and the phenomenon of humor, the analysis will delve into the difference between humor and laughter and the necessity of strictly separating these terms. The seminar shall thus consider the basic theory of humor within the framework of philosophical thought, in order to trace its connection with “public morality”.