

Ph.D Programme in Human Rights and Global Politics a.y. 2020/2021

Subject research area	Title	Lecturer	Hours	Cfu	compulsory/optional
Methodological Skills	An introduction to the concepts and methods of political philosophy	B. Henry	10	1	compulsory
	Social Sciences Research Methodology	External lecturer	10	1	compulsory
	Introduction into Quantitative Methods	S. Collignon	10	1	compulsory
	The Web as a Research environment	External lecturer	10	1	compulsory
	Research Methodologies in International Law (only if there are PhD students in IL)	C. Bakker- E. Sommario	10	1	optional
	Methodology and legal elaboration (offered within the PhD programme in Law)	G. Palombella	10	1	optional
	Academic writing	External lecturer	10	1	compulsory
	Public speaking	External lecturer	10	1	optional
	How to get published in a legal journal	External lecturer	2/4		optional
HUMAN RIGHTS IN CONTEXT	Protection and Promotion of Human Rights at Global and Regional Level	E. Sommario	10	4 cfu	compulsory
	Agricultural Law and Human Rights	M. Alabrese	10		compulsory
	Philosophical Foundations of Human Rights	A. Loretoni	10		compulsory
	Protection of vulnerable groups	F. Capone	10		compulsory

GLOBAL POLITICS: OPEN ISSUES AND CHALLENGES	Global Politics definitions	S. Giusti	10	4 cfu	compulsory
	International legal system	C. Bakker	10		compulsory
	Intergenerational Justice	A. Pirni	10		compulsory
	Global Commons	S. Collignon	10		compulsory
	The Political Economy of Liberty	S. Collignon	20	2	optional
	Postnational forms of politics	External lecturer	10	1	optional
	Global Challenges	External lecturer	10	1	optional
	Fundamental Rights in European Union Law: An Introduction	G. Martinico	10	1	optional

Ph.D. students must obtain 150 hours:

- 130 hours from the compulsory courses,
- 20 hours from optional ones that can be selected also from every PHD programme of the School

PHD students are free to attend other optional courses (as supernumeraries) selected from the various other programmes of the Scuola